

Elephant

It's really hot in Africa, so elephants flap their ears to keep themselves cool.

An elephant can drink 200 litres of water in one day – that's enough to fill a bath!

A baby elephant stands under its mother to shade from the sun.